Upcoming Tests and Quizzes:

- We are going to try our best to squeeze in our math test Tuesday before break!

News and Important Dates:

- This Monday and Tuesday before Thanksgiving (November 19 and 20) that we are in school will have no busing and no hot lunch! Please plan accordingly.
- If you already know your child will be missing any school next week, please let me know!
- With the changing weather, remember that students can only go off the pavement at recess if they have snow pants and boots.
- As we start getting deeper into our math curriculum, it would be extremely beneficial for your child to have a grasp of his or her math facts. MobyMax is my recommended tool for practice. Students simply go to Fact Fluency once they log on. This would be great to do over Thanksgiving break!
